Art Unit: 3781

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8, 12, 24 and 25 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Marco '096 or Suzuki et al JP '823, both cited by applicant.

Both Marco and Suzuki et al teach attachment of a neck finish ring to a container neck with radial expansion of the neck, as claimed.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Taylor, Jr. '704, of record.

To have provided the neck or ring with a knurl for retention in the manner taught by Taylor, Jr. would have been obvious.

3. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the reference as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Yoshino et al '046, of record.

To have oriented the neck portion with a member forming an anvil in the manner of Yoshino et al would have been obvious.

Art Unit: 3781

4. Applicant's arguments filed 3/5/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Contrary to applicant's arguments blow molding of the neck by Marco inherently results in radial expansion when the material of the neck is forced into the thread formations of the ring. In similar manner Suzuki specifically discusses the radial draw forming of the neck again resulting in and inherent radial expansion. Claims 3 and 13-23 have been canceled.

5. The following are suggested formats for either a Certificate of Mailing or Certificate of Transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a).
